Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to invite you to participate in the International Scientific and Practical Conference “Rotmistrov Readings. Part 2: Crop Cultivation Technologies and Soil Property Transformation under Climate Change Conditions,” dedicated to the 130th anniversary of the founding of the Odesa State Agricultural Research Station, which will be held on September 25, 2025, beginning at 10:00 a.m.

Format: Online (ZOOM platform)

Meeting ID: 896 582 5926

Access Code: A0tmbJ

The conference will cover the following key topics:

1. Crop varieties as a key factor in adaptation to climate change;
2. Crop rotation, tillage, and sowing dates as regulatory elements of climate adaptability;
3. Fertilizer application optimization;
4. The role of micronutrients and growth regulators in enhancing plant adaptation potential;
5. Impact of weather conditions on agroecosystem entomocomplexes and protection systems;
6. Micro- and mesofauna of soils under climate change conditions;
7. Plant protection: pathways of adaptation;
8. Impact of climate change on the transformation of soil fertility parameters.

We sincerely thank you for your fruitful collaboration with our institution and look forward to your active participation in the event.
